

A tall, grey, cylindrical water tower stands against a clear blue sky. The top of the tower is a white, circular tank with a metal railing around its edge. On the side of the white tank, the word "NORTHLAKE" is written in a blue, serif font, with a stylized compass rose logo integrated into the letter "O". Below "NORTHLAKE", the word "TEXAS" is written in a smaller, blue, sans-serif font. The tower is set against a background of a clear blue sky and a field of dry, golden-brown grass at the bottom.

Previously, based on federal requirements, the Town of Northlake mailed individual reports to every consumer on our water system. Now, based on a new rule focused on improving communications between water providers and their customers, the Environmental Protection Agency allows for electronic delivery.
