On February 28, 2023, at approximately 6:30am, Officers were called to the 900 blk of Pearl Place in reference to a disturbance and an individual who was in distress. Officers arrived at the location and set up a perimeter and contacted the individual. As a precaution, Officers removed other family members from the area.

Police spoke with the individual several times over phone and tried to get the individual to come out and speak with Officers. The individual refused and was rational in conversations with police. No crime was committed, and the individual was not a threat to others. The individual stated he was not going to harm himself. The individual spoke with other family members, and they were enroute to care for the individual.

Because no offense committed and no one was in danger, Officers cleared the location. Further review of the incident is still ongoing.
